DATE OF APPOINTMENT  August 2015

RANK AND SALARY  Limited-Term (1 year, possible reappointment) Assistant Professor, full-time, non-tenure track. Salary commensurate with credentials, experience, and reputation.

QUALIFICATIONS  Doctorate or professional equivalent in piano performance, advanced knowledge of keyboard literature (ABD considered if the degree will be completed by July 2015); relevant teaching experience; productive career as performer of solo and chamber literature and/or collaborative piano.

RESPONSIBILITIES  • Artist-teacher of piano responsible for instruction of students from undergraduate through doctoral levels
• Teach piano literature
• Coach chamber music
• Assist in student recruitment
• Productive career as a research/creative scholar and performer
• Other duties as assigned

TO APPLY  Electronic submission of application materials should be received by March 15, 2015, to be assured full consideration. Review of applications will continue from that date until the position is filled. Submit a cover letter, vita, three letters of recommendation, academic transcript (of latest degree), and list of additional references in PDF format to https://www.franklin.uga.edu/jobs/. Letters of reference may be submitted through a third-party system (such as Interfolio) via email to somadmin@uga.edu. Academic transcripts should also be submitted online or sent to Edith Hollander c/o Hugh Hodgson School of Music 250 River Road, Athens, GA 30602. Application questions can be directed to:
Dr. Evgeny Rivkin
erivkin@uga.edu
Phone 706-542-3737
Fax: 706-542-2773

The University of Georgia is the first state-chartered university in America. It is a comprehensive land/sea grant university located in Athens, Georgia, 60 miles northeast of downtown Atlanta, the state capital (www.visitathensga.com, www.uga.edu). Georgia is well known for its quality of life in regard to both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

The Hugh Hodgson School of Music (www.music.uga.edu) is home to 500 students and a faculty of 60. The Hodgson School is part of the Performing and Visual Arts Complex that includes the five-story music building and the Performing Arts Center. Undergraduate programs include the Bachelor of Arts degree and the Bachelor of Music degree with majors in composition, music education, music therapy, theory, and performance. Graduate offerings include the Master of Arts, Master of Music, Master of Music Education, Education Specialist, Doctor of Education, Doctor of Musical Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees, with majors in performance, conducting, music composition, musicology/ethnomusicology, and music education.

The Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, its many units, and the University of Georgia are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and students, and sustaining a work and learning environment that is inclusive. The University is an EEO/AA institution and all applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status.